

Modern Slavery Statement for Plastics 2000

Introduction

At Plastics 2000, we are committed to ethical business practices, human rights, and environmental stewardship. As part of our dedication to transparency and accountability, we have developed this Modern Slavery Statement. This statement outlines our efforts to prevent modern slavery and ensure responsible practices throughout our operations and supply chain.

Our Commitment

Plastics 2000 acknowledges the global challenge of modern slavery, which includes forced labour, human trafficking, and exploitative practices. We firmly believe in respecting the dignity and rights of all individuals, and we actively work to eliminate any form of modern slavery from our business activities.

Scope

This statement applies to Plastics 2000 and its subsidiaries, affiliates, suppliers, contractors, and partners involved in the production, distribution, and trading of plastics.

Key Actions and Initiatives

1. Supplier Engagement and Due Diligence

- We engage with our suppliers to communicate our expectations regarding human rights and ethical practices.
- We conduct due diligence to assess potential risks related to modern slavery within our supply chain.

2. Supplier Code of Conduct

- We maintain a comprehensive Supplier Code of Conduct that explicitly prohibits modern slavery.
- Our suppliers are required to adhere to this code, which covers labour practices, environmental impact, and transparency.

3. Risk Assessment and Mitigation

- We identify high-risk areas within our supply chain, including materials sourcing, production facilities, and transportation.
- We take proactive steps to mitigate these risks and address any vulnerabilities.

4. Training and Awareness

- We provide training to our employees and suppliers on recognizing and preventing modern slavery.
- We raise awareness about the importance of ethical practices and human rights.

5. Transparency and Reporting

- We regularly review and update our policies and practices to align with international standards.
- We publish this Modern Slavery Statement on our website to ensure transparency and accountability.

Continuous Improvement

Plastics 2000 is committed to continuous improvement in our efforts to combat modern slavery. We collaborate with industry peers, NGOs, and relevant stakeholders to share best practices and drive positive change. Our goal is to contribute to a world free from modern slavery while maintaining the highest standards of integrity and responsibility.